The workshop is organized jointly by DIW Berlin (Christian Dreger) and Freie Universität Berlin.

The aim of the workshop is to bring together academic researchers and practitioners to promote and exchange ideas in the field of macroeconomic modelling. Presentations are scheduled for the first two days. The participants of the workshop are also invited to attend the DIW End-of-the-Year Summit, December 16-17.

Contributions should apply modern time series or panel econometric techniques to macroeconomic problems, where the economics of the euro area are particularly important. An extended abstract (about 300 words) or preferably a full length article with JEL classification should be submitted to Christian Dreger (cdreger@diw.de) in doc or pdf format. The deadline for submission is October, 20. Authors of accepted contributions will be notified by November, 15.

Young economists are especially encouraged to present their work to an experienced audience. Participants have to register prior to the conference. A non-refundable conference fee of 110 euro has to be paid until November, 30. The fee includes coffee and lunches on both days, as well as one conference dinner.

Looking forward to seeing you in Berlin
