Workshop for Women in Macroeconomics, Finance, and Economic History

Call for Papers

The 1st annual Workshop for Women in Macroeconomics, Finance and Economic History is being organized by the German Institute for Economic Research (DIW Berlin; www.diw.de). The conference will be held at DIW Berlin, June 17-18, 2019, in the center of Berlin.

The aim is to bring together female academic researchers and practitioners to promote and exchange ideas in the field of Macroeconomics, Finance, and Economic History. We invite both empirical and theoretical contributions, including, but not limited to macroeconomic and financial stability, interactions between monetary policy and financial regulation, institutional change and capital market integration, and studies dealing with expectations and experience. The conference will facilitate and support the formation of professional networks among female economists across academia and policy institutions.

Each conference day will be opened with an invited speaker followed by contributed papers, discussions, and poster sessions. Additionally, invited speakers will share experiences and insights of pursuing a career in the field of Macroeconomics and Finance.

Keynote lectures will be given by:

Raffaella Giacomini (University College London) & tba

There is no registration or participation fee. Accommodation, lunch buffets and a dinner will be hosted by DIW Berlin. However, travel expenses are not covered.

Please submit your paper or an extended abstract in PDF format along with information on the paper title, name(s) of author(s), and contact details to wimfeh@diw.de

The submission deadline is March 31, 2019. Authors will be informed latest by April 30, 2019.

By submitting your paper and personal data, you agree that this information will be used exclusively for conference planning. After the conference, this data will be deleted.
