Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal `paneldata.org`.

The diagram illustrates the structure of a questionnaire question. It shows two questions, Q72 and Q73, with their respective text, instructions, and answer options. The diagram is annotated with labels and arrows pointing to specific elements:

- question number: Points to the question number (Q72).
- question text: Points to the main text of the question.
- interviewer instruction: Points to the instruction text.
- answer options: Points to the list of possible answers (Yes, No, No answer).
- in blue: identifier for filter: Points to the blue text `Q72;lsta1`.
- in blue: filter with condition: Points to the blue text `Q72;LSTA1=2`.
- grey bar: open or numeric answer: Points to the grey bar below the question.
- in green: dataset name, variable name, variable label: Points to the green text `bio I0013 born in Germany`.

The diagram shows the following content for Q72:

Q72 Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany?
This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.

Yes 1
 No 2
 No answer -1

`Q72;LSTA1=2`

Q73 What country were you born in?
Please enter the current name!

`Q73;lsta2 bio I0016 Country Of Birth`

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue. Each variable is preceded by an identifier (which generally contains the question number, marked here with a yellow dotted line), which is given, if the variable is used in filters in a subsequent question. Such filters are usually shown (as gatekeepers) at the beginning of the question.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form `2 @ Q73`. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if the variable results in value of 2.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

Q81 Now we have additional questions about your experiences with psychological counseling and therapy.

Q82 Have you ever heard or read about psychological therapies via the internet?

Internet-based psychological therapies (IPT) comprise a broad variety of types of treatment for relatively easy treatable depressions and anxiety disorders of a low or mid-grade. Following, we provide three illustrations of different types of IPT:

1. Internet-based unaccompanied treatment by self-help (without therapeutic assistance): The patient attends a structural program of self-help using a smartphone or computer for several weeks. This program incorporates specific tasks, exercises and lessons related to the problem (without personal feedback).
2. Internet-based accompanied treatment by self-help (with therapeutic assistance): The patient attends a program of self-help online under a guidance of a therapist. The communication with the therapist takes place selective via text-based feedback per email or chat.
3. Internet- or video-based psychotherapy (videoconference with a therapist): The person in therapy and the therapist communicate via webcam. Like in a conventional therapy session they meet at a specific date by appointment using verbal and non-verbal communication and feedback during the session.
