Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal paneldata.org.

The diagram illustrates the structure of a questionnaire entry. It shows two questions, Q72 and Q73, with their respective text, instructions, and answer options. Below each question, there are identifiers for filters and variables, color-coded to match the labels on the left. A legend on the right explains the meaning of the green text: dataset name, variable name, and variable label.

Label	Content
question number	Q72
question text	Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany?
interviewer instruction	This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.
answer options	Yes (1), No (2), No answer (-1)
in blue: identifier for filter	Q72:lsta1
in blue: filter with condition	bio I0013 born in Germany
grey bar: open or numeric answer	[Grey bar]
question number	Q73
question text	What country were you born in?
interviewer instruction	Please enter the current name!
in blue: identifier for filter	Q73:lsta2
in blue: filter with condition	bio I0016 Country Of Birth

Legend for green text:
 in green: dataset name, variable name, variable label

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue.

Each variable is preceded by an identifier, which usually contains the question number and which is used when the variable is used in filters in subsequent questions. Such filters are usually placed as input filters (gatekeepers) at the beginning of a question. An identifier that is referred to in the input filter of a subsequent question is marked yellow as an example.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if answer 2 was given.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

288 This is the end of the individual questionnaire. Thank you for the interview! But we do have one last request. It is increasingly important for scientific research to have information about people's employment histories and to consider this data in statistical analyses. To this end, we would like to link the survey data from this interview with the social insurance data from the Institute for Employment Research (IAB). This is only possible under German data protection law with your express permission. Of course, the decision is entirely up to you. Please take a moment to read the form.
