Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal paneldata.org.

The diagram illustrates the structure of a questionnaire question and its answer options. It includes labels for various elements and their corresponding text in the questionnaire.

question number: Q72 question text: Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany?

interviewer instruction: This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.

answer options: Yes (1), No (2), No answer (-1) in blue: identifier for filter: Q72:lsta1 bio I0013 born in Germany in blue: filter with condition: Q72:lsta1=2

grey bar: open or numeric answer: Q73:lsta2 bio I0016 Country Of Birth

in green: dataset name, variable name, variable label

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue.

Each variable is preceded by an identifier, which usually contains the question number and which is used when the variable is used in filters in subsequent questions. Such filters are usually placed as input filters (gatekeepers) at the beginning of a question. An identifier that is referred to in the input filter of a subsequent question is marked yellow as an example.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if answer 2 was given.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

123 Did you take part in any further occupational training programs in 2021?

Here we are referring to all types of further vocational training measures that are designed to build on previous professional training or to pave the way for a change of profession, as is the case with occupational retraining. We are also referring to continuing education programs in science or academia, such as programs offered by universities or similar institutions. The amount of time spent in the program could range from just a few hours to several months or years. The idea to pursue further training may have come from you, your employer, or a government agency such as the employment office (Bundesagentur für Arbeit).

204a Intentions of naturalization

204b In the following part of the survey, we would like to learn more about your naturalisation intentions. Naturalisation in Germany offers you some benefits, such as universal suffrage, legal equality and protection, as well as other opportunities for social participation. You can choose your own profession and can also become a civil servant. In addition, you benefit from freedom of movement and freedom of travel in Europe and can also travel outside Europe without a visa to many countries. However, naturalisation is subject to requirements. For example, you need an unlimited or permanent right of residence at the time of naturalisation and must affirm your commitment to the liberal democratic basic order of the German constitution. In addition, you must be able to independently secure your livelihood for you and your dependants and must not be convicted of a criminal offence. Furthermore, there are other requirements, but also exceptions and allowances. In the following section, we will illustrate a hypothetical situation, i.e. a way in which naturalisation could be legally arranged. This does not mean that the naturalisation requirements in Germany are actually as described here, and we cannot offer you naturalisation as part of this interview. Please consider whether you would apply for naturalisation under the specified conditions.

236 In order to keep the interview as short as possible, we would like to incorporate excerpts from data that the Institute for Employment Research at the Federal Employment Agency in Nuremberg has on you into your survey data.

These data include, for example, information on employment relationships, phases of unemployment and participation in measures during unemployment, as well as employer characteristics.

For the purpose of integrating these data into the interview data, I would like to ask you for your consent.

If this information is analyzed, it is absolutely guaranteed that all data protection regulations will be strictly adhered to and that the data will not be passed on to third parties.

Your consent is, of course, voluntary. You can also revoke it at any time by contacting the person responsible at infas.

Do you agree to the transfer of data from the Institute for Employment Research of the German Federal Employment Agency?

237w_a The COVID-19 pandemic has changed our lives in many ways over the last few years, especially in the area of digital communication. Last year, we were unable to interview all of our respondents in their homes and instead conducted many interviews by telephone. But since the telephone is less personal, we are looking for new ways to conduct interviews. One option is to do interviews online or in a virtual meeting between interviewer and respondent. Here, you would be able to decide for yourself whether you and your interviewer have the video turned on when you talk. In addition, you would always see the same questions that the interviewer is seeing on the screen.

We would, of course, look for video conferencing software that meets the high standards of data protection that we guarantee.

Would you be willing to take part in the “Living in Germany” survey in a virtual meeting with your interviewer?
