Women in Macroeconomics, Finance, and Economic History

Call for Papers

The 2nd annual Workshop for Women in Macroeconomics, Finance and Economic History is being organized by the German Institute for Economic Research (DIW Berlin; www.diw.de). The conference will be held at DIW Berlin, May 3-4, 2021, in the center of Berlin. If necessary, we will organise a digital alternative.

The aim is to bring together female academic researchers and practitioners to promote and exchange ideas in the field of Macroeconomics, Finance, and Economic History. We invite contributions, including, but not limited to macroeconomic and financial stability, also with a focus on the responses to the Covid-pandemic, interactions between monetary policy and financial regulation, institutional change and capital market integration, and studies dealing with expectations and experience. The conference will facilitate and support the formation of professional networks among female economists across academia and policy institutions.

Each conference day will be opened with an invited speaker followed by contributed papers and discussions. Additionally, invited speakers will share experiences and insights of pursuing a career in the field of Macroeconomics and Finance.

Keynote lectures will be given by:

- Yoosoon Chang (Indiana)
- Caroline Fohlin (Emory), and
- Marie Hoerova (ECB).

There is no registration or participation fee. Accommodation, lunch and dinner, and networking events will be hosted by DIW Berlin. However, travel expenses are not covered.
